As a simple workaround, we use a macro function to expand the value of a cell into a multi-line string. First, click the cell on the worksheet. Then, under the cell, click the Data tab. In the Data menu, click Text to Columns. Then, choose Delimited. Click Next. Enter "," as the Delimiter and, after choosing one of the options in the Character Set dropdown list, click Next. Select either Fixed Width or Fixed Width, then click Finish. Then, in the Data tab, right-click the column and, under Sort, choose Sort by Delimited Text. The Sort dialog box will open. Click on the Delimiter box and choose the option that suits you. A comma should be enough. Now, click on OK. The column is now ready for importation. There are two other less complicated ways to do this. To: df-download-new. #. Hej, & df-download-new.df-download-new Uupa 5 tahun 1960 pdf to jpg, Alt code small letters. 2.
