I am having a problem with the selection of the chosen module. I have the problem that my JLS seems to include many (even if I checked only one.jar) modules that have no relevance or interest for my current project. I have chosen the initial selected module to be : org.springframework.web.servlet.FrameworkServlet for my project. This is the servlet module. If I review the list for the JAR files that are included in the chosen module, I find quite alot of modules that I do not need in my project, though I have chosen to select this one. For example I find included : org.apache.log4j.cli.OptionConverter org.apache.log4j.cli.NullOptionConverter org.apache
