In vitro conversion of human prostatic stromal cells into prostatic epithelial cells. Prostatic stromal cells isolated from human prostates by enzymatic treatment were cultured in vitro for several months under conditions that support the growth of most or all prostatic epithelial cells. Immunohistochemical studies using antisera to cytokeratin 8/18 and cytokeratin 8/18 mRNA analysis demonstrated that these cells are epithelial in origin. By electron microscopy, the stromal cells were seen to be tightly attached to the substratum through short microvilli and filled with a granular material similar to the granules that are present in the lumen of the normal prostate gland. These observations suggest that stromal cells can be induced to differentiate into epithelial cells in the absence of any known stromal-epithelial interaction in a normal human prostate gland.

Q: There is a typo in a famous proof of the fundamental theorem of arithmetic In Pollard's famous proof of the fundamental theorem of arithmetic, we have the following. The main way to prove the theorem is via strong induction: Suppose the inductive hypothesis is true for some $k \in \mathbb{Z}$ with $k \geq 0$. We wish to prove the theorem for $k+1$ as well. Thus by the induction hypothesis, for all $n \in \mathbb{Z}$ we have $\frac{p_n}{q_n} \mid 1$ since p_n and q_n are in \mathcal{A} . It follows that for all $n \in \mathbb{Z}$ there are some $a_1, \dots, a_n, b_1, \dots, b_n \in \mathbb{Z} > 0$ such that

$$\frac{a_1}{b_1} \cdots \frac{a_n}{b_n} = 1$$

and

$$\frac{a_1}{b_1} \cdots \frac{a_n}{b_n} \in \mathcal{A}$$

Now pick some $n \geq 1$
