In addition, many other studies have demonstrated that a higher frequency of CSSTs in people who had poor self-rated health were also associated with a higher risk of death ([@B40],[@B41]), and this effect is usually explained by poor self-rated health as a reflection of the presence of multiple disorders ([@B42]). However, in our study, the effect of CSSTs on the risk of death still persisted after controlling for the influence of self-rated health. This may be explained by the fact that people who had poor self-rated health had some psychological problems, but not necessarily all psychological problems. This is due to the fact that people who had 09e8f5149f

RunAs Tool is a lightweight application that lets you grant Administrator rights to various programs on your system in a quick, efficient manner. It is portable, comes with a simple user interface, packs several interactive functions and lets you customize some of its settings. RunAsTool.com has been providing support to home users, small business and business owners for many years. We have developed tools and utilities that solve many problems. We have also developed many software applications that make Windows easier to use and enable users to do many tasks without leaving the desktop..Ct. 2435 (citations omitted). Furthermore, the Supreme Court expressly ruled that the district court's findings regarding the degree of violation for which petitioner was convicted, did not make a difference under the Guidelines. Id., at 2439 (citation omitted). To be sure, it makes sense that the number of victims is an important consideration in deciding whether an offense is a "serious" or a "very serious" violation of the law. However, as we have seen, this is not to say that every offender who pleads guilty to one count of an indictment with a different number of victims suffers the same punishment: the district court is permitted to go beyond the minimum and maximum numbers of victims listed in the indictment in order to determine the proper Guidelines range. See United States v. Kimber, 898 F.2d 1244, 1247 (9th Cir.1990) (district court has the right to rely on evidence adduced at sentencing hearing in evaluating the number of victims). The district court in this case was concerned with both the number of victims and the nature of the crime. In the light of the district court's finding regarding the first factor, we have no difficulty concluding that the degree of violation could not have been a factor in the district court's decision. 35 As far as the seriousness of the offense is concerned, the Guidelines permit the district court to consider any factors that the judge deems relevant to the proper sentence, such as the nature of the crime and the punishment for a similar offense, and the best way to prevent recurrence of the offense or promote respect for the law, 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)(2); Torres, 901 F.2d at 234; Lawrence, 916 F.2d at 553, and "[t]he appropriateness of brevity or detail in a sentencing judge's statement of reasons in a particular case will depend upon the complexity of the particular case
