What's New in the MAIA Unit Conv?

MAIA Unit Conv is a small utility designed to perform several basic unit conversions. This is a simple-to-use application and it doesn't provide any configuration settings and this may be only good news for all those who want to make several conversions on the go. The app can perform an unlimited number of conversions. It supports the following types of conversions: feet to meters, inches to millimeters, Celsius degrees to Kelvin, miles to kilometers, nautical miles to kilometers, and knots to meters per seconds. This is a small utility and it doesn't provide many useful features because the developer didn't include more supported units and configurable parameters for each conversion.
