Advanced Clipboard Utility (ACU) [Mac/Win]

Advanced Clipboard Utility (ACU) is a lightweight clipboard manager and clipboard history extension for Windows NT/2000/XP/2003. It has most of the features that you can expect from an advanced clipboard tool: - Copy/Paste from a clipboard to any application or document - Copy/Paste from documents or applications to clipboard - Copy/Paste of rich text, HTML, WML, RTF or plain text formats - Clipboard history - Switch to the last clipboard window quickly - Multiple clipboard windows - Lockable windows - Paste-Anyplace technology - Double-Click to open a window with the last window - Open new Windows by hot key - User defined keystrokes to open windows - Handy Widget to select the windows size - Push button to copy all windows to the clipboard - Rotate windows in 3D mode - Show custom view for all windows Advanced Clipboard Utility (ACU) Features: - User Defined Keystroke: You can define your own keystroke(s) to open specific windows. - Handy Widget: You can use a little icon at the bottom left corner of the window to hide/show windows. - Rotate Windows: You can rotate the windows you want to open by clicking on the window in 3D mode. - Push Button: You can move/remove all open windows by pressing the "Push Button". - Copy/Paste Text: You can copy/paste text easily by a couple keystrokes. - Clipboard History: You can copy/paste clipboard history by just one keystroke. - Paste-Anyplace Technology: ACU has advanced algorithms to convert clipboard data automatically to the application format. This is especially useful if the clipboard data is in rich text format such as Word or HTML or other formats. - Split Clipboard Window: You can split windows or merge windows into new clipboards. - Drag+Drop Clipboard: You can drag&drop windows and objects directly to clipboard windows. - Support for all Windows Operating Systems: Advanced Clipboard Utility (ACU) is able to run in all Windows Operating Systems and Windows versions including Windows 95, 98, ME, NT, 2000, XP, Vista, Win7 and Win8. I had been using copy clipboard to make it work like the Windows Clipboard, but I found I used it a lot, so

If you do not know, please follow our software downloads page. What is a.ZIP? A.ZIP is a very common compression format used for Software and Operating Systems. .ZIP is the extension to the "TAR Archive" compression format, which is similar to ZIP. When opening a.ZIP archive, a file called ".ZIPARC" is usually also present. This file, in turn, is an archive file, like a ZIP. This is because when you extract a.ZIP archive, the.ZIPARC file is created. Important points about the.ZIP format: 1) All.ZIP files are archives (just like TAR), but 77a5ca646e

Start a new screen capture Click and drag to start the new screenshot capture. Left click to cancel Description: ACU is a huge timesaver! Only a few minutes are needed to learn how to use this! It makes you more productive by making the windows clipboard work better. It adds the functionality that Windows leaves out, starting with the ability to hold more than one item! (The regular Windows clipboard holds one item at a time.) Do you have a need to keep often-used (or seldom remembered) scraps of data around for easy pasting? Do you often need to move many pieces of data from one application to another? How about answering questions on a mailing list or help desk? ACU will help you to do all this things If you've ever misplaced something that you know you copied days earlier, if you've ever been overwhelmed by data, or if you've ever had to read data from one application as you typed it into another because cut 'n' paste would take too long, then relief is at hand. We invite you to explore our free 15-day trial. ACU is designed to act more like an extension of Windows itself, rather than a separate application. It sits quietly and discretely waiting for you to need it when you want to retrieve that data and paste it back into your document. If you are using the mouse you can click at the icon in the Notification Area (System tray). ACU then pops up ready for use... If you are using the keyboard you can hit the access Hot-Key to access needed clipboard ACU is designed to work they usual way. There is nothing unnecessary. Why ACU better: - You can simply switch between clipboards with only several keys or mouse moves - All operations can be performed by customizable hot keys - This tool will give you up to 16 clipboards - Auto run option from start-up - Easy Navigation
