- Uses FFmpeg and Mplayer to decompress archives - Allows renaming of subtitles and... File::Fastarch is an easy-to-use archiving and conversion tool for Perl programmers. It can be used to generate Fastarch archives from one or many files. Using this, Perl programmers can quickly produce archives that are self-extracting and runnable on any platform. It is a drop-in replacement for Archive::Zip. Archive::Zip is one of the most popular archive programs for Perl programmers. Although the 2.x version of Archive::Zip is still...

SAX::Web::MIME::Simple is a module for the SAX::Web::MIME module. This module provides a SAX interface to an mime types database. The class provides a constant which represents the name of the mime type, and is provided as a convenience. The mime types will be loaded as needed from the system location indicated by the class. For example, one could write: use SAX::Web::MIME::Simple; my $db = new... MMAP is a new network performance tool that checks the network activity of all threads of a process at once. It works by periodically reading from the file system and comparing the content against a recent copy to check whether any changes have been made. MMAP allows you to easily detect filesystem problems (like a crashed server), you can easily detect the changes of one process against the last known copy.

MMAP... Mojo::Recache::Client enables the Mojo::UserAgent recache mechanism to cache documents. You can use this to build a CDN that serves up the same cached document to every client. WWW::Mojo::UserAgent::Recache::Client is a subclass of WWW::Mojo::UserAgent::Recache, designed to work with Mojo::UserAgent::CachedFile. The main difference between the two classes is that WWW::Mojo::UserAgent::Recache... The WWW::Bookmark::File provides a way to represent and load bookmark files in PHP5. It can be used to save bookmarks to files, and the bookmarks can be loaded back in with the WWW::Bookmark::File::GetParsed method. It supports the RFC 2109 extensions for specifying relative and absolute paths to the various bookmark types (address, mailto, news, search, subscribe, and...
