cracked/cracked .Italy is facing its greatest crisis in decades. This is no exaggeration. The country is grappling with a ten-year debt crisis and is facing a nationwide depression. The crisis in Italy was triggered by the rise of a populist government following two inconclusive elections. Italy's economy is the seventh largest in the world, and the country is the second largest debtor in the eurozone after Greece. The situation has become much worse since 2017, when government bonds began their new era of uncontrolled spending. Italian government debt is currently at about 132 percent of the nation's GDP. That is the highest debt level in a euro zone country since Greece's debt hit 170 percent in 2014. What explains the situation? The economic state of the Italian economy is extremely difficult to explain. Back in 2014, the biggest Greek debt issue was the survival of the country. In Italy, the situation is ten times worse. Because of the recession, GDP in 2018 is likely to be around $2 trillion, with the possibility that it
