You can also change the magnification or scale between 100 percent and 50 percent (and possibly other numbers, like 200 percent). You can use this feature to double or quadruple an image's size, like making a movie poster much larger than life. 3. In the image, select the small image and scroll down to the bottom of the Layers panel and click the "Crop to Selection" icon (at the bottom right). The Crop to Selection icon appears on the image, and the image is ready to be cropped to any new shape. You can do this individually or use the Lasso tool to select a section of the image and then Crop to Selection. 4. Choose Image > Crop. The Crop Image dialog box opens. Select the new area to crop (the image gets rid of the parts of it that are outside the crop area), and then click OK. The newly cropped image is displayed in the image window. The Crop tool is a quick and easy way to get rid of unwanted parts of an image.

KABUL - Afghan President Hamid Karzai on Friday dismissed as "a joke" a report of an international team's discovery of 400 tonnes of opium hidden by the Taliban in areas cleared by U.S.-led forces. Karzai's office issued a statement on the government's website denying the report of its discovery by an international team of opium experts from Afghanistan, the United States, Britain, Pakistan, Iran and Russia. The Taliban had claimed to have planted opium in an area of insurgent-held territory in Afghanistan's southern province of Helmand as recently as last month. The group has cited victory over the insurgency as one of the successes of last year's military campaign, but foreign experts have speculated that the move was meant to strengthen the insurgency against Karzai. "The information has not been confirmed, but it is a joke. The anti-corruption department is behind this news," a statement quoted Karzai as saying. "Taliban and others were using drugs. They were addicts themselves and using addicts as a key weapon," it added. The province has been the center of opium cultivation and trafficking for decades. It was once the world's largest producer of the drug before the United States led a surge of foreign forces into Afghanistan in 2001 and pacified the area with several offensives aimed at rooting out the Taliban and the opium trade. "This illicit trade is more of a regional problem. After ISAF (International Security Assistance Force) forces completely cleared Taliban and al-Qaida fighters in Helmand in July and August, it appeared that the Taliban had been weakened, but the drug trade was expanding," said Zabihullah Tamanna, a senior Afghan anti-narcotics official. "The insurgents planted opium in areas outside the district centers. The opium harvest was seen in areas controlled by the Taliban - and also in areas outside the district centers in the past two months." Afghanistan's opium production in the fiscal year that ended last month, fell a record 20 percent to 1,601 tonnes, according to the UN Office on Drugs and Crime, which published the data on Thursday. Production had risen last year, making Afghanistan the world's top opium producer. The British-based anti-narcotics charity Drugs-Free World (DFW), which compiled the data, said that Afghan opium cultivation and production is now at the highest levels in history, with more than 350,000 hectares planted with poppy in August.

Die neue Vernehmlassungsanlage an den Keplerstraße in Berlin-Friedrichshain: Das Berliner Mietendeckel! Wenn Bürger Vorschläge für eine neue Vernehmlassung vorlegen, gibt es Änderungen daran. Für Künstler und Musiker könnte sie eine gute Nachricht sein, aber: Nach der neuen Vernehmlassungsanlage an der Keplerstraße in Berlin-Friedrichshain-Kreuzberg wurden vier Musikraumfabrikanten geschlagen. Auf dem Posten für Ordnung und Gewaltausrufe flackerten die Polizisten. Mit langen Stabgummigieren und gepolstertem Kübelwagen spuckten sie auf die Menschen, die ordentlich Einkäufe tätigten, ziemlich anschließend beruhigten sie sich nicht. Die Beamten schnappten sich deren Telefone und schlugen vier Musikraumfabrikanten gegenüber der Anwohnerin im südlichen Abschnitt der Keplerstraße, die nach Wünschen der Post eine neue Vernehmlassungsanlage gebaut hatte. Das war der Anfang vom Ende. Telefone wurden geräumt, Wassereinrichtungen wurden zugemauert. Dann, an der Ecke Kalischstraße/Ranitzstraße, brach zwischenmenschlicher Streit aus. Die Polizei nahm den beschädigten Fabrikanten unter Wartungsarbeiten in der U-Bahnstation unter Kontrolle. Alle Musikraumfabrikanten wurden dafür aufgefordert, das Tragen eines Sicherheitsschildes einzufordern. „Wir haben den Musikraum in vollem Umfang geräumt“
