District Court of Appeal of Florida, Fourth District. June 3, 1975. Rehearing Denied July 16, 1975. *475 Terence J. Gleason, City Atty., and Melvin C. Goldenberg, Asst. City Atty., Boca Raton, for appellants. Arthur M. Schwartz, of Walsh & Schwartz, Coconut Grove, and Richard D. Cave, of Anderson, McAlister, Ringen, Cave & Steele, Fort Lauderdale, for appellees. MAGER, Judge. By a unanimous decision of the en banc court in Pope v. City of Boca Raton, Fla.App. (2d, 1974), 303 So.2d 376, the lower court's order denying a motion for summary judgment and ordering that plaintiffs' action against the city of Boca Raton, defendant in a suit for damages for personal injury, go to trial, was affirmed. The en banc majority held that defendants' motion for summary judgment should have been granted as to the negligent maintenance of public property where the undisputed facts showed that at the point of the accident the highway was laid out in the right-of-way of a street only and was maintained by the county. The defendants' argument on the instant appeal is that the opinion in Pope v. City of Boca Raton, supra, was rendered without the benefit of briefs filed by the appellants. Appellants' reply brief asserted and established that the actual issue involved in this appeal was decided by the en banc court in its decision in the Pope case and that appellees are pre

We all know that the U.S. has a manufacturing problem: that 56 percent of the world's manufacturing occurs in three countries (China, Germany, and Japan). There are 8 million fewer manufacturing jobs than in 2000. But we also know that the U.S. is still the #1 manufacturer in the world. So where is the solution? That's what we're trying to find out through our survey of leading technology executives. At a time of unprecedented uncertainty, what are the biggest barriers to maintaining U.S. manufacturing? What are the barriers to expanding U.S. manufacturing? What's your strategy to avoid major risks to your business? If you're interested in participating in this survey (or if you're not - it's completely anonymous), contact Adi Suler at adisuler@
