FIFA (from FIFA Ultimate Team) is a series of football management video games developed by Electronic Arts, beginning in the late 1980s. The series includes FIFA (the game), now FIFA 20, the FIFA series on the Wii, and future iterations. How do I start a new career? First make sure you have created a FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) account. Then simply add a new player in the FUT. Go to the main menu and select "create a career". Select your desired location and team, and play the game to earn experience and FUT credits. A new career will be created for you, your team, and your manager. Once you have played for some time, you can level up your team's level in the game, and if you are skilled enough, you can start a new career. How do I level up my career? Simply play as your career in the game. You will obtain experience depending on your performance while playing. After some time of playing, experience points (XP) accumulate in your career and you can level up your player. As you level up, your player levels up and he will be stronger, and your captain can give your team a better chance of success. Sometimes in career games, you will gain some experience and go over the daily XP limit. In this situation, you will be unable to level up your player. However, you will be able to play the game until the end of the day. Will my players develop in the game? Your FUT career, team and manager and will develop depending on the number of minutes played in the real game. If you play a lot of career matches, your player and team will level up a lot more rapidly. Why are my players missing? Your FUT account has probably been suspended. Your player will be temporarily unavailable until a FUT account is reactivated. The player has been removed from the FUT client for breaking the rules. The player is banned from the game permanently and cannot be played in a career match. What is FUT? FUT is a digital collectible card game released in 2009 by Electronic Arts (EA). What is the "Captain"? When you create a new career, you are offered the opportunity to be the new captain of your new team. bc9d6d6daa
