Dreamweaver Dreamweaver is an all-in-one web design program that gives you the ability to create and edit HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. You get a blank page with a live-updating web browser that makes it easy to see how you're doing as you design. It helps you create basic HTML, create menus and forms, control layout with CSS, and work with basic and conditional JavaScript. It's incredibly popular in the business world, and the reason is simple: At one time, Dreamweaver was the only web design program available. It could do all the jobs of a hosting site, but for just about every other profession, it was the only way to go. Today, you can pick up free templates for Dreamweaver that make your site design easy; you can find Photoshop and other programs that can help you with similar tasks; and many web hosts are now providing this feature as a free service. For a list of templates that are free or inexpensive, visit www.dummies.com/go/dreamweaver. Dreamweaver is also great because it gives you access to a full-featured page editor, its own WYSIWYG HTML/CSS editor, and a toolbar for your page editing. You also have access to the browser, which shows you how your web pages look online. Dreamweaver has a steep learning curve, but even then you can create a great-looking site. Here are a few of Dreamweaver's tutorials that can help you get started: * \_Dreamweaver For Dummies,\_ by Paul McKiernan (Wiley). * \_Dreamweaver For Dummies,\_ by Todd Klindt (Wiley)

Q: rails request parameters vs form\_for I am currently using the request parameters to pass data to my form\_for. But I am not sure how to access the data in the view. For example, if there was a link that went to /users/5?username=john How would I access the user information for 5 in the view? Do I have to use form\_for and then print the fields in the show? A: using request parameters: Example params.inspect would yield you key, value pairs like [:user\_id=>[nil, "asd"], :user\_name=>[nil, "asd"]] use params[:user\_id] or params[:user\_name] to access the values for best practices, Use Hash Objects in Ruby A: As mentioned, you can use request parameters. And if you want to access the values, you can use the params hash. E.g. params[:id] will return the id attribute (if present). Q: For an integer  $n$ , prove that  $\sigma_n \left(x + \frac{1}{x}\right) \geq 0$  Let  $\sigma_n(x)$  be the  $n$ -th elementary symmetric function defined by the recursion:  $\sigma_{n+1}(x) = \sum_{i=0}^n \binom{n}{i} x^{n-i}$  Prove that  $\sigma_n \left(x + \frac{1}{x}\right) \geq 0$  Here is my attempt: Let  $f(x) = \sigma_n(x + 1/x)$  and let  $g(x) = \sigma_n(x)$ . Then  $f(x + 1/x) = \sigma_n(x) + \sigma_n(1/x) = \sigma_n(x) + 1$  and  $g(x) = f(x) + 1$ . Therefore,  $g(x) - f(x) = f(x + 1/x) - f(x) = f'(x)/f(x)$  which means that  $g'(x) = f'(x)/f(x)$ .
