I know that space around strings is handled differently, but I don't know a good method for handling this type of situation, and it should be possible to do so with a small and short piece of code to handle this. All I have is the text that is generated in the textarea. A: I used string.charAt(i - 1) + string.charAt(i) + string.charAt(i + 1) to replace the spaces The problem is solved, but I'm not sure how long it will work. If you found any better way to do this, please tell me. 55User Rating: 5 out of 5 Review title of Heinz Too many reviewers by happy camper! This game is just amazing! A huge amount of work has been put into this game. It is by far the best pokemon gameplay with overworld exploration. I really liked how when you explore areas and find pokemon you start to encounter your signature moves and types. It really made me feel like I was battling a real pokemon. Also the overworld maps and your ability to touch grass is also a really great change from the previous titles. Oh and the soundtrack is also awesome. I would recommend this game to anyone who loves pokemon or has played any of the previous games. 10/10 if you like pokemonDelhi rape: G3 school principal arrested in unruly mob attack New Delhi: A principal of a school here has been arrested for allegedly leading a mob which surrounded a woman and beat her, even after she had allegedly tried to resist. Thakur Badri Singh, the principal of St Annes' Convent School in Chanakyapuri, was arrested along with other students and was later released on bail. A complaint was lodged with a local police station on Saturday afternoon, the victim's brother, a former student of the school, said. Singh was arrested on Sunday when he was returning home on a bike after attending a function at the school, the police said. "While he was riding on the bike, a group of teenagers surrounded the woman and started abusing her," said an officer of Ashokpuri police station. "They said she was forced to convert to Islam after she got married and she was living in Saudi Arabia," he said. The woman alleged that she was being harassed by Singh and his henchmen over a property dispute. The woman's brother said Singh has been harassing her for the past few months as his efforts to extort money from her "have not yielded any results". Police have initiated a probe and are examining the woman's allegations.
