Also like previous years, FIFA delivers HyperReal Player Interaction for in-game celebrations. This year, the number of celebrations, including number of players in the box, have been increased. A new feature called “Big Hero Mode” has been added in FIFA 22. This mode comes with three degrees of difficulty: Easy, Normal and Hard. The new feature will teach you how to be a “real player” in the game, as you set up your career from a young club player. FIFA 22 will also introduce “Parental Control,” allowing you to limit the game content that the kids can access. To add, control the audio volume in FIFA Ultimate Team and improve the UI in settings. Apart from the new features, FIFA 22 also brings AI improvements and more functionality for custom kits and audio, the biggest of which are new fan chants to support your team, and for the first time in FIFA, you can unlock your favorite kits and shirts in game by using the FIFA Ultimate Team concept. Here’s what some of the other new features of FIFA 22 are: Data Loss: In FIFA 22, the data taken from the micro-structure of the field during a high-intensity football match is analyzed for game intelligence. Consequently, players will feel the way they move more accurately, and the game’s dynamic will improve accordingly, making your virtual player feel as if they’re playing in a real football game. Pitch Design: Each pitch is built in FIFA in order to closely resemble a real field by taking into consideration several factors, such as the shape of the pitch and the way the sun and shadow comes and goes. The pitch lights are the true, most realistic lights. Double Peak Performance: As mentioned above, the new player movement system and pitch design will provide players with improved movement based on the real-life movements collected from the real players. UEFA Champions League 2021: The UEFA Champions League is a global football competition which is organized by the Union of European Football Associations (UEFA). In the FIFA 21 Championship Mode, the UEFA Champions League is the first FIFA World Cup match that you will face in-game. This makes the UEFA Champions League even more exciting and engaging in-game. Player Interaction: The new set of celebrations and big plays that happen in-game will bring out the true character of the players

Collect and upgrade your favorite players, with improved visuals and authentic, hyper-detailed player attributes. Development FIFA 22 will feature "augmented reality" via special camera advancements, and it will also allow users to design their own stadiums. The FIFA 22 development team was composed of more than fifty developers: producer Manfred "MF" Müller-Wohlfarth, producer Beko Huber, producer Guillaume Rambaud, producer Marco Galli, and six members from the FIFA Team responsible for each of the title's core gameplay elements. The team behind the development of the title was first announced in a press release posted to the official FIFA website on October 7, 2015. Liga MX Real Madrid and Liverpool will be playable in the newly created "Liga MX" in FIFA 22. This will allow players to challenge themselves as they play as Real Madrid in their UEFA Champions League group matches against Atlético Madrid and Juventus, as well as in their home matches against Leganés and Athletic Club. The historical Sánchez Pizjuán stadium, built in 1923, will be featured in this mode. The stadium, which is still used as a football stadium by Sporting Gijón as well as the Aves and Gimnàstic de Tarragona football clubs, will have a starting player rating of 7 and all players will use artificial intelligence. The Real Madrid stadium will be available as part of the "FIFA Club Collection" which will also feature Juventus and Atlético Madrid's stadiums, and the Manchester City stadium will be playable in the game's "FIFA Ultimate Team" mode. FIFA 17 The FIFA 17s improved gameplay was compared to FIFA 16s gameplay. Improvements included the "player system", which was described as more intelligent, and "smaller mistakes", due to the player's interaction with the game being more intuitive. Some changes were announced at the EA SPORTS World Football Cup 2015, where the "star formation" feature was described as an "intuitive new way to find the perfect formation", with the ability to "drill down" to the player's position and attribute ranges. An improved "pass & move" tool was also mentioned. The FIFA 17's introduction of the "Etihad Stadium" in Manchester, England, was announced at the EA SPORTS World Football Cup 2016, with the stadium opening for the 2016/2017 Premier League season.
