By the end of 1989, the Audi 80 cabriolet was its highest selling model in America (over 18,000). By then, Audi was benefiting from the introduction of the C80, and the 80 became the studio-capable grand tourer many performance enthusiasts had wanted. The all-new C80 was as long and as tall as an A4. It weighed less than 2000 pounds. The new Audi Q2, also a new independent sub-brand by the Volkswagen Group, has long been a rumour on enthusiast forums. We finally have the confirmation that the Q2 will be produced, but the production date is not certain. The Q2 will be produced at Audi Manheim in Germany, and it will be the first new model of Audi - Volkswagen in many years. It is expected to be a premium hatchback produced in a joint capacity between Audi and Volkswagen. HRE cars might be a good idea if you want a few more safety items as your soon to be sold Audi could have some unwanted occupants one day and you know what happens when we don't consider car alarms, the car is just an expensive toy when somebody wants to steal it The Audi OemFactory Car Fuse contains a programming chip that is connected to the OE Diagnostic network (ODN) and enables the evaluation of vehicle parameters and parameters that can be electronically read. This system is designed to determine the cause of faults and errors, to diagnose and to repair parts of the vehicle. MMI (Multi Media Interface) is basically a multi-media system built into the radio within the car, and it consists of 5 separate parts: Bluetooth, AM/FM/Satellite, CD player, MP3 player, and of course, dials/buttons for volume control. And, well, after 15 years, you can now control it with your voice. The company name, Audi, is a kind of a credit of courage. Risk-taking can turn bad, and yet, you have to take risks. But courage seems like a strong quality which should not be associated with bad things, like break-downs or bad luck. So, that's the first thing. But still, the first time I was driving a car, I had the impression that the car was with me. It was driving me, because it was very good. This was my first Audi, the A4.
